at Boydton.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

BOYDTON, VA., August 1.—Mr. B. L.
Graham, division superintendent of schools for Mecklenburg, began his professional examination of teachers for this county on Monday, and will conclude the same to-day. Those who falled to attend the uniform examination in May had the privilege of doing so at this time.

These examinations are very difficult, and but few succeed in getting first grade certificates. Not a single person, white or colored, received a first grade certificate in this county hast May, and I believe there is as much intelligence here as in any of the other counties.

Under the law, the teachers who taught last session can have their certificates renewed without being examined, provided they obtain from the district clerk of the district in which they taught an endorsement as teacher and then it is approved by the division superintendent.

At the next session, nearly all, the teachers will be required to stand these examinations are modified, scarcely a colored person will pass, and but very few whites—not a sufficient number to supply the country schools with teachers. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
